Memory Verse

Isaiah 53:1

Who hath believed our report? and to whom is
the arm of the Lord revealed?

A decorative border of musical notation, including treble and bass clefs, notes, and rests, surrounds the text of the Chorus of the Week.

Chorus of the Week: Number 67

Jesus died for boys and girls upon the tree;
That they might not perish for eternity.
If they only trust Him, He will save them now,
To forever share with Him His home on high.

Boys and girls are sinners, ruined by the fall;
Come to Christ for cleansing, hear the gospel call;
Heaven is bright and happy, free from care and sin;
But you must be blood-washed, ere you enter in.

Seek the Saviour early, Jesus says, "Today";
While you're young and tender, choose the narrow way;
Lest when you get older, Satan snares your feet,
And you miss the way to heaven's golden street.

Story Time

Molly had a problem. She wanted her brothers to hear the gospel, but she was in England and they were in Ireland. Molly had gone to a gospel meeting in England and got saved but, even though there were people in Ireland preaching the gospel, she didn't know where they were. The only place that she knew that preached the gospel was the Gospel Hall in England where she had heard it. She was praying for her family and thinking of how she could get them to know the truth.

There were very few jobs going in Ireland at that time, and Molly had a great idea. She looked for work for her two youngest brothers near where she was staying and was able to get jobs for them both in a fruit and vegetable shop. Then she wrote to them and sent them the money for tickets to travel to England. In the letter she asked them if they would come to some gospel meetings with her when they arrived.

"What do you think we should do?" Charlie, the youngest brother asked Richard.

"I think we should take the jobs. We can go to the meetings a few times to please her, and we might be able to show her where she is wrong," answered Richard.

What an adventure that journey was. They travelled by pony and cart to the train station and then by train to Dublin, where they saw the sea for the first time. After crossing the Irish sea on a boat, they took the train for London, but they had to change trains in a town called Crewe. They had only ever seen two train tracks side by side, but in Crewe there were lots of tracks heading in different directions. They managed to get on the right train to London, then change again for Portsmouth.

When they got off the train, Molly was standing in the station waiting for them. "Where will we stay?" they asked after all the hugs.

"My friend, Miss Bacon, the lady who brought me to the gospel meeting, is going to let you stay in her house for a little while," answered Molly with a smile. "We can all go to the Gospel Hall together."

It wasn't long before Molly's prayers were answered. At first it was very difficult for Richard and Charlie to believe that their good deeds wouldn't get them to heaven, but after a while, they stopped arguing and started to listen. They heard a wonderful verse; Galatians 2:16.

Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified.

First Richard and then Charlie accepted the great gift of salvation and continued attending the Gospel Hall there.
